

San Pedro - La Florida

■ In the parish of the Divine Redeemer and in all the chapels that depend on it, the Quasimodo feast (a famous feast in Chile) took place on Saturday, April 27. We went to visit the sick in their houses and met all those who could not go to the parish or to their chapels. It was a very beautiful experience to see the sick and their families in their houses, waiting for the Lord with deep joy and quiet meditating; we were touched by their faith and joy in participating, praying, singing with the group that accompanied the priest.
